

WELL-QUALIFIED FOR A BOOMING INDUSTRY

quatraCare Health Academy is one of the biggest occupational re-training and qualification providers in Hamburg and its greater metropolitan area. At one of three locations in northern Germany, you'll meet highly competent employees all working in pursuit of a common goal: Through needs-oriented educational opportunities, they want to help their clients improve their career prospects over the long term - whether they're just starting out in their profession or seeking a higher position.

Demographic shifts present major challenges for the job market and also create enormous demand for specialised, highly experienced healthcare professionals.

This is where the quatraCare Health Academy can help: As a charitable education provider associated with several vocational schools, quatraCare offers basic vocational training and professional development at a very high level - for professionals working in all areas of the healthcare industry.

As a family-friendly educator, we can support you in balancing your private life, career and qualification programme.

The following fields in the healthcare centre are open to potential participants seeking occupational re-training and post-qualification:

- Geriatric care
- Nursing
- Doctors' practices and clinics
- Emergency medical and rescue services
- Health promotion
- Administration and management

If you choose to participate, you will benefit from more than 25 courses offered through our certified professional development and training service. This allows you to keep up with the times and secure a professional future that works for you. We work closely with in-patient and out-patient nursing facilities, hospitals, emergency services and doctors' practices.

This network enables us to provide the optimal conditions for you to obtain your qualification.

As a result of our years of cooperation with job-placement agencies, state Job Centres and a number of funding bodies, we have already acquired all the authentications and accreditations necessary for occupational qualification.

We look forward to hearing from you and invite you to come get to know our innovative and experienced company.

... be a part of us!

▶▶▶ 'The philosophy we live by is: Bringing together excellent vocational training and a background in serving the public good. Learning with heart and soul - and intellect. The joy and dedication of all our participants and teachers. This is what sets us apart. Just come see for yourself. We love to welcome day visitors at any time.'
